Description

Welcome to Dreckly Meadow, where access is made easy through a secured gate next to the public highway. The newly maintained stone track leads you to the private parking area, ensuring year-round entry. When you arrive, take a moment to soak in the stunning views to the north, where the valley and neighbouring fields meet the horizon in a picturesque scene.

Dreckly Meadow not only offers you the chance to make a positive environmental impact but also comes with the added benefit of being on the banks of the beautiful River Torridge. The river enhances the natural beauty of the meadow and comes complete with fishing rights as well as providing a crucial water source for the thriving ecosystem.

The meadow's gentle slope naturally directs water towards the River Torridge, enhancing drainage. Steeped in agricultural tradition, this land has long been a haven for sheep and cattle, offering them lush grazing pastures. It also produced abundant hay to sustain them through the winter months. By planting trees here, you could create habitats for wildlife and contribute to a greener future and your efforts will leave a lasting legacy for generations to come.

The southern boundary is defined by an earth bund which runs parallel to the track. The western boundary features a picturesque belt of mature trees and bushes, lined with wildflowers and fruit bushes that offer protection and food for wildlife.

Along the northern boundary, the riverbank provides a secluded spot for setting up camp or fishing, with the privacy provided by lush trees. This natural haven offers a perfect escape from the hustle and bustle of daily life. Enjoy the gentle rustling of leaves, the flow of the water and the chorus of the birds whilst unwinding from the daily stresses of life.

The eastern boundary, leading back to the meadow's entry point and hard-standing parking area, is lined with a mix of small trees, bushes, shrubs, and occasional bramble, providing seasonal fruits. Additionally, although not too obvious, if you climb in through the hedgerow, you will be please to find yet another hidden bonus of a small stream running the full length of the meadow northward to meet the River Torridge.

Dreckly Meadow offers a wonderful opportunity for those passionate about the environment and nature. This private sanctuary is perfect for planting trees, whether you're looking to offset carbon or simply enjoy the beauty of a establishing a new woodland. By investing in this land, you're not only enhancing the landscape but also creating a habitat for wildlife and leaving a lasting legacy to enjoy.

The purchasers of the meadow will be asked to enter into a covenant to ensure the quiet and peaceful enjoyment of adjoining woodlands and meadows.

Local area and history

The meadow lies within the enchanting region known as 'Ruby Country,' celebrated for its unspoiled and breathtaking Devonshire countryside. It is also close to the village of Bradworthy and is often referred to as the "last village in North Devon" because it sits just 3 miles northeast of the border with Cornwall. Venture further west, and you'll find yourself in the Cornish village of Kilkhampton. This unique location adds to Bradworthy's charm, making it a gateway between the two counties.

Bradworthy also proudly claims to have the largest village square in England. This tarmacked area at the heart of the village has been a focal point for around 1,000 years. Enclosed by businesses and houses, the square is a testament to Bradworthy's historical continuity.
